

The George I. Alden Library at Quinsigamond Community College
General Community Patrons

Welcome to the Alden Library!

Members of the local community may use the library materials and services of the Alden Library with the following qualifications:

- All Alden Library materials must be used in the library.
- Videos may be viewed in the Individualized Learning Center (ILC). A picture ID will be required and will be held until the video is returned.
- Use of the premises, services and equipment is made available with the understanding that QCC students and employees take precedence when equipment and staff are scarce.
- Any C/WMARS public library patron may borrow books from the QCC Library by requesting them through their public library.
- Any public library patron anywhere in the world may borrow QCC books by asking their local library to borrow through the OCLC international interlibrary loan network
- General public computer use is restricted to the third floor library reference computers.
- Computer use must be in compliance with the QCC Information Systems Acceptable Use Policy.